LEADERSHIP AGILITY PROGRAM

September 17-20, 2017

GENERAL INFORMATION

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The SUS Leadership Agility Program, designed in collaboration with Kellogg School of Management, equips leaders to advance their careers in academic medicine amidst an ever-changing landscape. The program leverages Kellogg's strength in meeting the unique design requirements of the healthcare sector through faculty and practitioners who have instructed thousands of healthcare professionals on their leadership journey. This program is rooted in theory-driven knowledge and concrete strategies that allow participants to put new ideas into action.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND/TARGET AUDIENCE

Aspiring Surgical Leaders, Division Chiefs, Center Leaders, Hospital and Medical School Leaders

VENUE

The course will take place at the James L. Allen Center, which is located on Northwestern University's Evanston, Illinois campus on the western shores of Lake Michigan. The Allen Center is designed to facilitate peer learning and informal interactions among faculty and participants. It is completely self-contained with classrooms of all shapes and sizes, fully equipped study-group rooms, bedrooms, dining rooms, lounge areas, snack rooms, laundry service and an exercise room. All 150 bedrooms are equipped with Internet connections and voice mail. During your stay, you will enjoy a private bedroom and bathroom with views of Northwestern University's campus or the lakefront and your commute to the Course each morning is only a brief elevator ride or quick walk downstairs from your room. The Evanston Campus is about a 30-minute drive from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport, with taxis readily available going both to and from the airport to the Allen Center.

BUSINESS BASICS

Every discipline – law, medicine, business – has its own structural foundation and its own vocabulary. This session will acquaint you with the fundamentals of business, including economics, finance, marketing, business communication and organization behavior and development. You will become familiar with the basics of these fundamental business topics and gain facility in knowing the right questions to ask when confronting business issues. Business basics will lay the groundwork for a deeper examination of some concepts which follow in the program.

UNDERSTANDING FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

While financial statements are essential diagnostic tools for assessing the health of any business, few physicians (and many managers) are trained to understand or analyze them. This session will present the origin, use and analysis of the three key financial statements. Additionally, the session will cover the basics of cash, accrual and cost accounting and why and when each may be appropriately employed.

NEGOTIATION FUNDAMENTALS: ESSENTIAL SKILLS FOR LEADERS

Being an effective negotiator is important in every phase of business. In this session, participants will learn evidence based characteristics of effective negotiation, followed by an exercise designed to test their skills, discovering their own strengths and weaknesses as negotiators. The session concludes with a group debrief of the exercise.

HUMAN CAPITAL: STRATEGY AND LEADERSHIP

Decisions and actions surrounding question of human capital can make the difference between function and dysfunction in an organization. In this session, we will consider strategies for successful selection, engagement and retention, discuss the role of performance management in a strong organization, and consider the importance of diversity and inclusion in your workplace culture and how you, as a leader can impact culture.

BUILD YOUR LEADERSHIP CAPACITY TO ENGAGE FOR CHANGE

Whether brought about by insurance requirements, technology, new regulations, a merger or acquisition, or the Affordable Care Act, change is a constant in medicine. As a result, most leaders today are highly experienced with change, but far less experienced with change done right – nearly 70% of change efforts fail. This session will acquaint you with strategies and practices to help you confidently lead effective and lasting change in your organization.

HEALTHCARE MANAGEMENT: THE CHANGING LANDSCAPE

This session will present a current point of view on the state of the industry.
